We invite your participation, either as a presenter or non-presenting attendee, at the 7th Annual New Zealand Management Accounting Conference. Whether you attend as a newly budding PhD student, a seasoned academic, or a practitioner intent on being introduced to the latest thinking in management accounting theory and practice, we look forward to hosting you in one of New Zealand's most iconic and picturesque locations, Queenstown.

Traditional paper submissions as well as suggestions for panel discussions, round tables, and workshops are welcomed.

Papers should consist of around 5,000 words (and definitely not more than 8,000 words) and use the Harvard referencing style. Suggestions for panel discussions, round tables, and workshops should be accompanied by a proposal that includes a detailed description of the topic and objectives, the featured participants, and the activity's expected duration. The deadline for both types of contributions is 20 September 2013. All submitted contributions will be double-blind reviewed by relevant accounting experts and selected on the basis of quality and suitability.

Expected topics are likely to include, but are not limited to:

Performance measurement and management

Costing systems and cost allocation

Risk management

e-commerce

Accounting education

Behavioural accounting

Ethics

Sustainability

Methodological frameworks and methods

Contributors will be notified of the review outcome by 20 September 2013.
Abstracts of accepted papers will be published in the Conference Proceedings.

People without papers are warmly invited to attend and participate in this conference.
Attendees will be eligible to receive NZICA CPD credit for their attendance.

The Conference is sponsored by New Zealand Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Department of Accountancy and Finance at Otago University.
